VOL. 14, NUMBER 24 — MONESSEN, PA., MONDAY, JULY 12, 1915 — SIX CENTS THE WEEK

New Brick Road Was Opened For Traffic

The new state aid road between Webster and Monessen is now practically completed and is being used by the public. The layer of brick was completed Thursday, July 1 and was officially opened to the public today. Hundreds of automobiles have already passed over the road and it promises to become a great driveway for autoists.

For a distance of about 1,000 feet between the Henderson mine and Turkey hollow it is necessary to turn off the brick and skirt the river bank on the old road. It will likely be a few weeks yet before the road is formally taken over by the state.

There is yet some work and cleaning up to be done. The erection of concrete culvert head-walls was completed last week and this week the workmen will be busily engaged in grading slips, burms and ditches. A retaining fence will be erected over a goodly portion of the route and this will likely occupy a couple of weeks.

The road is pronounced one of the finest in the state by all who have pased over it and Contractor J. F. Patterson and the Donora Construction company deserve the highest praise for the good time they have made under difficulties and for the splendid manner in which they have executed the contract.

Many Prisoners For The Week-End

Burgess A. G. Dunlap fined five men $15.00 and costs each this morning for having been disorderly in their boarding house at Twelfth and Highland last night.

Before placed under arrest the men were notified three times to quit their rowdyism, but they kept it up at the sacrifice of the slumbers of the whole neighborhood. Officer Menefee then went to the house, unlocked the door with a skeleton key and with the assistance of another officer, took the five men to the police station.

They denied under oath that they had had anything to drink, or that they had been disorderly. When the burgess soaked them with the heavy fine, they looked at each other in astonishment, but the fine was a half way punishment for swearing falsely.

George Suter was drunk and called a man and his wife vile names. He was fined $5.00. Ralph Morovento was drunk and disorderly and paid a fine of $3.00. Albert Wanago was drunk and fighting and paid a fine of $4.00. A number of others were incarcerated for having indulged too freely in the cheering liquid.

Auto Hits Man On New Road

While driving along the new river road from Webster late yesterday afternoon, in his Hupmobile touring car, J. E. Cook, the local transfer man, struck Tony Young, and slightly injured him. In company with three other men, Young was walking along the road, and after Mr. Cook had blown his horn several times, they all stepped to one side, but just as the car approached, Young stepped directly in front of the car. Before Mr. Cook could apply the brakes, the fender struck the man, knocking him to the ground. The machine was stopped and the injured man brought to Dr. Farquhar's office. It was discovered that he was suffering from a slight depression on the head and after receiving medical attention, was taken to his home at 70 East Schoonmaker avenue.

Auto Victim Is Laid To Rest

Yesterday afternoon the remains of John W. Scott, the aged man who was killed by an unknown autoist, were laid to rest in the Monongahela cemetery. The funeral took place from the home of Mrs. George Byers, of Rostraver township, a daughter of the deceased.

The driver of the machine is still at large and his name is yet unknown to the police. The state police have been working on every clue, but as yet have nothing that is likely to lead to the arrest of the man.

Many people who are acquainted with the meagre details of the awful tragedy, believe that the guilty person will eventually become conscious stricken and will make the facts known.

It is declared to be a fact that after the old man was knocked down and likely killed that the driver of the car stopped his machine, went back and dragged the body to the side of the road, then got in the machine and drove away. The tragedy is recorded as one of the most cowardly ever brought to the public attention and as cold blooded as the most attrocious murder.

—Billy Miller, Charles Oldar and Harry Fisher, arrested on a charge of gambling at the carnival grounds here two weeks ago, were before the court at Greensburg Friday and entered pleas of guilty. They were assessed a fine of $25 and costs and will serve one day in jail.

Locals Win Fast Game On Saturday

The Monessen independents added another to their long list of victories Saturday afternoon when they took the strong Beltzhoover team into camp by the close score of 4 to 3. The Beltzhoover boys started out like world beaters and scored a run in each of the first three innings, but after this, Ryan, on the mound for the locals, had them at his mercy and with superb support checked further scoring. The Monessen boys outhit their opponents three to one but not until late in the game were they able to bunch hits and gain the lead.

Manown, Leigheber and Underwood featured at the bat for the locals, while a great part of the credit for the victory belongs to Wilson, whose headwork and good playing at the initial sack has been responsible for many runs for the Independents. The Beltzhoover team is considered one of the strongest and the victory gained by the locals places them in line for the championship of the valley and the Pittsburgh district.

Thursday of this week the Independents will travel to Greensburg to play the county seat team and on Saturday it is probable that the Mt. Oliver team will be the attraction here.

Arrest Suspect

Frank Pollock, an employe of the Sheesley Shows, was arrested Friday night at Connellsville on a warrant for felonious assault with intent to kill sworn to before Justice of the Peace A. N. Shuster by Mile Kranor. He was suspected of being implicated in the assault at the Wireton carnival grounds, while the Barkoot shows were here, and Constable Woolsey brought him here for a hearing. He proved an alibi, however, and was discharged.

Youthful Thief Attempts To Rob Local Store

Three of Monessen's band of youthful thieves were before Burgess Dunlap this morning charged with entering the Monessen Five, Ten and Twenty five cnet store late Saturday night with intent to commit a robbery. They gave their names as Joe Young, aged 10, Nick Marsh, aged 7 and George Hagard, aged 9.

The three entered the store during the rush Saturday night and secreted the Hagard boy in the basement of the building. After closing hours he forced the basement door and entering the store room rifled the cash registers taking $12 in change. Night Watchman Marker in making his round, thought that he heard some one in the store and called Mr. Rogaliner on the telephone. He came down about midnight and they searched the building but could not find any traces of the intruder, who had wrapped himself up in paper in the basement.

Sunday morning Mr. Rogaliner came down to the store to make a further investigation and finding the cash drawers empty, went to the basement and discovered the Hagard boy trying to make his escape through a ventilator. He took the boy in charge and called the police. When searched the money was found on his person, along with a number of other articles which he had wrapped in a handkercief.

The youthful prisoner implicated the other two boys and they were placed under arrest, but when the proprietor of the store refused to bring charges against the boys, they were allowed to go home. All three have been in court before and despite their ages, are adepts at entering buildings and unless taken in charge promise to give the police plenty of trouble in the future.

New Bus Service

The auto bus service between this city and Donora and Webster was opened Sunday when Harry Christner brought his big White auto bus from Monongahela and started his regular trips between this city and Donora. He is using the bus that plied between Monongahela and Milesville and carries with comfort twenty-five passengers. The trip to Donora is made in fifteen minutes along the new road, and before long it is expected that half hour service will be installed.

That Reminds Us

"If a majority of the warlike peoples of the world could be persuaded to join the League of Peace, it is not likely that those who remained outside would make much trouble," says an eastern editor whose wisdom indicates that he's a direct descendant of Solomon, the wise.

Of course, he's right, but just glance at the size of that "if." It reminds us that if the Rocky mountains moved 1,000 miles eastward, there would be change in the topography of the U. S. Or if the waters of the Great Lakes flowed the other way, the harbors of Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo would need some dredging. Or if human nature was wholly made up of high morals, there would be a scarcity of pickpockets, big and little, or if all the big mills of Monessen were located on the other side of the river, there would be no movement in Charleroi for a free bridge.

Peoples Forum

This column is devoted to the expression of the opinion of our readers and in no wise denotes the paper's opinion on or sympathy with any question involved.

Dear Editor:—Is there any difference in the way people take exercise for the body? A few days ago I saw a mother on the back porch bending over a wash tub, while the daughter was in the front room swinging a pair of dumbells. J. A.

Such inconsistencies are frequent. More frequent than in former days. Too many mothers bend over the wash tub for exercise and allow their daughters to swing dumbells or play tennis.

Daughters of today have as good a right to know how to wash clothes, sweep the house and get a meal as the daughters of a generation ago, if they are ever to amount to anything as home makers.

There is no reason why a mother should bend over a wash tub and do the washing for a whole family and allow a daughter to swing the clubs in a cozy, comfortable part of the house. There is just as much exercise in washing clothes as there is in handling dumbells, and there need be no doubt about it, and just as long as mothers do such foolish things and allow their daughters to be loafers, just so long will we hear complaints about the high cost of living. High cost of living is due to the very fact that there is on an average about one bread winner for a family of four or five. One producer to that many consumers, and as long as this remains, we will see living soaring upward. Producers are what we want. We will get plenty of exercise if we produce and if it is exercise we are really for, we can get plenty of it by helping mother wash. If operating the washboard is too violent at the start, try running the wringer for a time, but at any rate help mother, at least a trifle.

Now J. A., we trust we have thrown some light on the situation, and that you will readily see that we have more faith in old fashioned "elbow grease" than all the dumbells you could pile from here to Webster.

Road Will Open Soon

Speaking relative to the beginning of Monongahela railway service to Fairmont, the Fairmont Times says: Regular passenger train service over the Monongahela Railway will not likely be established over the road before September 1, if then. It is possible that the new road may take care of part of the traffic during the Fairmont fair. This is the gist of information given out by General Superintendent Obey of the Monongahela railroad, with headquarters at Brownsville, Pa., and who is now directly in charge of the new line into Fairmont.

Superintendent Obey came to the city on his special train, consisting of one coach the "Monongahela" and an engine and tender. Mr. Obey and his assistants held a conference here with Samuel D. Brady, chief engineer of the new railroad.

The superintendent of the Monongahela said there was little information to give Fairmonters, aside from what they already know. "We do not know for a certainty what trains or how many we will put on between Fairmont and Pittsburgh. The amount of travel over our lines will of course, regulate the kind of trains and the number we will put into service."

Acked about passenger train service and whether or not the new road would provide sleeper and dining cars from Fairmont to Pittsburgh, Superintendent Obey would make no definite statements. "We have not decided on anything definite yet, and it is not likely that we will know concerning this, until the new line has been placed in operations."

As previously announced the Monongahela road will greatly facilitate travel between Fairmont and Pittsburgh and other points along the line. The trip to Pittsburgh will be made 45 minutes or more faster than the Baltimore & Ohio is making it now, according to the information given out by the Monongahela officials.

While Fairmont people have been anxious awaiting for the opening of the new road, those in charge say that the delays have been unavoidable. There has not been any particular difficulty in getting the approval of the public service commission of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The merger of the B. & N. road with the Monongahela railroad, a corporation, which previous to the completion of the new road, was already in operation in Pennsylvania, became effective July 1. The tariffs for the railroad are to be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission at the earliest possible date.

Trains on the new road will be dispatched by telephone. The telephone lines have already been installed and are now in use.

The freight depot in Fairmont will not likely be completed befoe another month. Steel for the new structure has been delayed. For several weeks the railroad has been handling freight shipments to and from Fairmont. The consignments have not been large and the work train engine has been taking care of this traffic.

The official visit of the general superintendent was only for the purpose of seeing how work on the new stations and freight depots was progressing and to get a line on other details of the work.

Col J. M. Schoonmaker, president of the Monongahela Railway company and vice president of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie will likely make an inspection of the new railroad to this city in the next few days.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Out of Doors Man

The fellow with the big, tough muscles who can chop trees all day and lift the butt end of a hard log, is a hearty liver in everything he tackles. He likes his tobacco rich, sweet, mellow and Long Cut—good for both smoking and chewing. He uses because it's got the right stuff in it.

FIVE BROTHERS

Pipe Smoking Tobacco

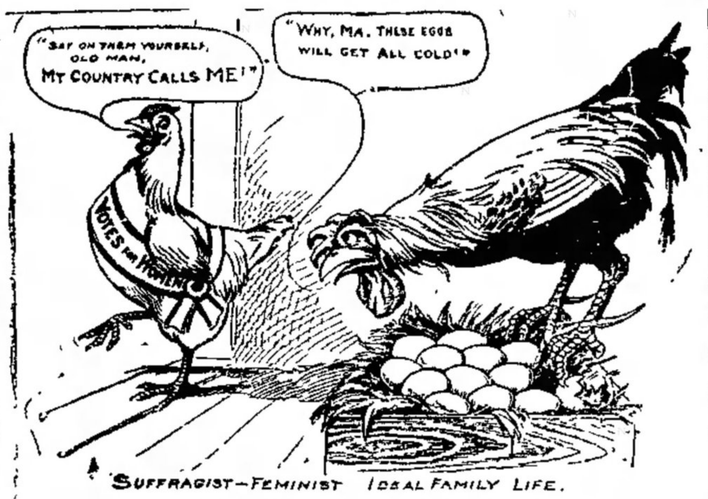
Satisfaction—for a sturdy man—can come from real tobacco only. Insipid mixtures don't appeal to a man with real tobacco hunger.

FIVE BROTHERS is pure Southern Kentucky leaf, with the "body" for a real smoke or chew, rich and pleasing. It takes three to five years to age the tobacco in FIVE BROTHERS; the process can't be hurried. That's the reason FIVE BROTHERS is so ripe, mellow and healthful.

FIVE BROTHERS is sold everywhere—get a package today.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY



SUFFRAGIST—FEMINIST IDEAL FAMILY LIFE.

Said Madame Gray Hen to the Cock of the Walk,
"Look, here, Mr. Rooster, it's my turn to talk.
Be done with your strutting, you lazy spur-legs;
Get right down to business and sit on these eggs.
For centuries past you have taken your ease,
When I, helpless creature, was cramping my knees
In some lonely spot hatching out broods of chickens,
While you did the crowing and raising the dickens.

"I've seen you with others—but no matter when,
What's good for the rooster is good for the hen.
From this time henceforward I want you to know,
My voice will be heard, for I'm learning to crow."
Then, summoning other gray hens to the spot,
She told them to "strike," and they chorused "why not?"
So poor Mr. Rooster just curled up his legs
In humble surrender and sat on the eggs.

His temper was not of the pleasantest mood,
But, giving him credit, he hatched out the brood;
And when the sun set all the hilltops aglow,
He left his wee charges and marched off to crow;
A hawk circled 'round, and in one tearful swoop
Swept all the young chickens right out of the coop.

The farmer beheld the transaction and sighed,
"I see this is race—I mean—fowl suicide,
When hens start to crow and roosters to hatch,
With not one left to teach chickens to scratch.
They need a good lesson before the fad spreads,"
So grasping his hatchet he chopped off their heads.
He then had to broil them, himself, on the coals,
For both wife and daughter had gone to the polls.
He pondered awhile and then, scratching his head,
"I'm sorry I killed that poor rooster," he said

FLORENCE GOFF SCHWARZ.

WOMEN SUBJECT TO JURY SERVICE

"If the woman suffrage amendment is passed by the voters on Nov. 2 every woman who will be qualified to vote will be liable, without further legislation, to jury service," is the announcement made by Mrs. J. Gardner Cassatt, acting president of the Pennsylvania Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage. Mrs. Cassatt says that she has been advised by legal experts that if the women get the ballot on the same terms as men, they must accept jury duty.

As men cannot escape jury service by allegations of personal inconvenience or business losses, Mrs. Cassatt is of the opinion that household duties will not be allowed as sufficient reason to excuse women. The burden of jury duty will fall most often and hardest on married women, Mrs. Cassatt believes, as only 24 per cent of the women who will be enfranchised if the constitutional amendment carries, are unmarried, and, of course, the married woman's permanency of residence, etc., make her more likely than her single sister to be called to serve on juries.

Mrs. Cassatt declares that married men will hardly desire to contemplate jury service for their wives with strange men, and she looks for a marked increase in the opposition to suffrage when all the voters learn that irksome duties will greatly outweigh the questionable fun of "dropping a piece of paper into a ballot box" if women get the franchise. A friend of the anti president, who lives in a state where women vote, recently begged a judge to excuse her from jury duty, saying that she was not a suffragist and had not wanted the ballot or any of its attendant burdens. Denying her plea, the judge remarked: "Madam, your time for protest has passed."

SUFFRAGE MAY INCREASE INSANITY

Noted Neurologist Says Vote Might Make 25% More Women Insane.

In a recent letter to the president of the New York Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, Charles L. Dana, M. D., declares.

"There are qualities in the nervous system of woman that call for protection and make at least certain forms of aggression and responsible life dangerous. If women achieve the feministic ideal and live as men do, they would incur the risk of 25 per cent more insanity than they have now. I am not saying that woman suffrage would make women crazy. I do say that woman suffrage would throw into the electorate a mass of voters of delicate nervous stability. We would increase our vote, double our expense of elections, and add to our voting and administrative forces the biological element of an unstable precocity which might do injury to itself without promoting the community's good. I do not assert that this is surely to happen, but there is a reasonable certainty that some of it might if woman suffrage were adopted."

Suffs Lose in Wisconsin.

Woman suffrage has just failed conclusively in the Wisconsin legislature, making the twenty first state that has defeated suffrage since last October. The state senate, by a vote of 16 to 17, refused to reconsider its vote in killing the Grell resolution.

CARDINAL GIBBONS AGAINST V. F. W.

Though the Catholic Church has taken no official stand against woman suffrage—a proceeding which would necessitate action before church councils or require the propagation of condemnatory orders from its hierarchy—the opinion of its primate in this country, James Cardinal Gibbons, must be looked upon as fairly representative. Cardinal Gibbons has been quoted at times as being in favor of suffrage—but nothing could be farther from the truth. In a letter dated June 26, 1915, the Cardinal's well known opposition to suffrage for women is announced as personal, but no one can fail to grasp the sentiments of his eminence as expressed in his last interview on this subject:

"I am unalterably opposed to woman suffrage, always have been and always will be. This is not a new subject with me. I have preached against it, talked against it and written about it for years. Naturally, I have not reached my conclusions without study of the most serious kind—study from the standpoint of what is best for woman herself, what is best for her husband and what is best for her children. The answer is that women should not be given the right to vote."

In "Faith of Our Fathers," page 94, Cardinal Gibbons says "Give thanks, moreover, to God that you belong to a church which has also a keen sense to detect and expose those moral shams, those pious frauds, those socialistic schemes which are so often undertaken in this country in the name of religion and morality, but which in reality are subversive of morality and order, which are the offspring of fanaticism, and serve as a mask to hide the most debasing passions. Neither Mormons nor Millerites, nor the advocates of free love or of women's rights, so called, find recruits in the Catholic church. She will never suffer her children to be ensnared by these impostures, how specious soever they may be."

SAYS SUFFS FEAR WOMEN

In his recent speech before the suffrage committee of the New York constitutional convention, advocating submission of the amendment to give the franchise to women, Judge Watson T. Dunmore, of Utica, said:

"A great majority of the women feel that they have troubles enough of their own, and that they should not be called upon to bear those burdens which naturally belong to men, and which would prevent women from giving proper attention to those duties which by nature they are best qualified to perform. The suffragists will oppose a referendum of this question to the women. They have fought against such a referendum in the legislatures of New York, Massachusetts, Indiana, South Dakota and other states. Why? Can there be any other reason than their fear of a crushing defeat if such a vote were taken? Is there any shorter road to female suffrage than a majority vote of the women of this state in favor of it? The suffragists, therefore, are contending that women shall receive the right to vote on every question excepting the one question of whether they shall have the elective franchise. In my judgment, if there is any question upon which the women are not only best qualified to vote, but upon which they have the greatest right to vote, it is the question of whether the elective franchise shall be conferred upon [illegible]

A Public Nuisance

Dust and mud-laden roads are a menace to comfort, to health, to civic progress.

Many of our roads are ankle deep in dust in dry weather and just as deep with sticky mud in wet weather.

The dust is worse than mud.

It hangs in clouds like a pall every time an automobile passes.

Where does it go?

SOME OF IT GOES INTO YOUR LUNGS?

Your wife and children breathe some of it.

It settles down over your yard and flowers—penetrates into the house and covers the curtains, the furniture, the dishes, the carpets and the walls.

You know how disagreeable it is to sit on the front porch and breathe dust-polluted air and have it settle all over your clothes.

But your family gets more of it than you do. Think of them.

This form of annoyance can be stopped at little cost by having oil or asphalt spread over the roads.

Every citizen and every taxpayer with an ounce of pride or love of home and family should be glad and willing to seize the opportunity to put an end to dusty roads.

Scores of touring parties avoid a town because of the bad roads. They spend money and merchants need their patronage. A big sum of money is lost to a community every month that the roads are allowed to stay the way they are.

Why not make these roads dustless at a little additional cost?

Appoint yourself leader in a popular movement to overcome the dust—in your neighborhood at least.

Agitate it among property owners and neighbors.

Other towns and other neighborhoods are doing it. Start a movement in your town and neighborhood for good roads.

DO IT TODAY, YOURSELF.

The Atlantic Refining Company of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh is under contract with the State to oil or resurface with asphalt hundreds of miles of State roads.

A big fleet of auto trucks and wagon distributors, necessary to take care of this work, is operating in every county in the State.

Some part of this work is being done in your vicinity.

This makes it possible to take care of your roads immediately—to deliver material, put it on the streets, in fact take care of the whole job and in the most economic manner.

One of The Atlantic road experts is now at work with your County Engineer. He will be glad to furnish full information regarding cost, amount of work and material required and will assist you in every way possible to secure the kind of roads you should have.

Don't delay—don't put it off—don't wait for the other fellow—WRITE TODAY to The Atlantic Refining Company.

SMASHED

ALL SERIAL RECORDS BUSTED

Again—once more the mighty Universal has smashed all records for producing on serials with the avalanche of producing "The Broken Coin."

Again we are proving to our patrons the valley over that when we say a serial is great—it is absolutely, positively unequivocally.

Here's a serial of 30 intensely interesting, gripping reels, with 15 consecutive weeks of wonderful photoplay entertainment, the kind that ties our audience solid.

It's a strange, fascinating story of a lost coin—the thrilling search for it by a young lady newspaper reporter, Kitty Gray. Its recovery and wealth.

It's the kind of smashing serial that holds our audience spell bound for all the time it lasts, incident after incident, crammed full of punches.

"The Broken Coin" is a fascinating, story, will pull our patrons with a magnetic power, will pack the Olympic week after week. It will satisfy the most critical,

A wonderful advertising campaign prepared telling the complete story, describes the author, the producing company and the leading stars—it is going on now in the Daily Independent every Friday and Saturday· watch each week for it.

The Daily Independent shows pictures of Francis Ford, Grace Cunard, Emerson Hough, all the actors, etc.
